FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1745.

Stockholm, August 27.

IT appears very clearly of late, that there are again different Opinions amongst our Great Men; and it is very much apprehended, that as they can never be attended with good, so it is not all improbable that they may be follow'd by very bad Consequences; to prevent which, it is said a general ...ill be held in the Beginning of the Year. This is ...ice Subject to write upon; but if we may judge ...ertain Circumstances, which have not hither... ...ived us, his Majesty is very much inclined to ... and re-establish the old System; which, how... ...ill not hinder the Prime Minister, Count Gyllen... ...from maintaining his Interest at the new Court. ...prehend his Majesty will return hither from his ...s before the End of the Month; and that Prince ... of Hesse Cassel will take Copenhagen in his ...s he returns to Germany, in order to execute ...Commission of Importance. In the mean time, ...nder'd that the French Ambassador here is not ... so great Credit as formerly; which is a Thing ...l disagreeable to the better Part of the Swedish ... He had form'd to himself great Hopes in re... ...to a Treaty of Commerce, by which a Foun... ...was to be laid for a Swedish West-India Com... ...but tho' his Excellency pretended to demonstrate ...Council both the Facility of settling, and the Ad... ...es that would redound to Sweden, from enter... ...a Trade with the French Settlements in Ame... ...ca, after all, the Merchants, who are the People ...ust carry on such Schemes, declar'd, they did not ...stand it; and that it appeard to them in no other ... than as a Scheme form'd for the easier furnish... ...e French Colonies in that Part of the World with ... Stores, for which Sweden was like to receive no ... at all; more especially in a Time of War, when ...aden with such Commodities would be good ... by the Law of Nations. Whether M. Dalion, ...e Orders to propose the same Scheme to the ...t Russia, will be better understood, or receive ...encouragement, Time will shew, but hitherto ...ain he has done little or nothing; tho' that is ...fault, since every Body agrees he is one of the ...dious Ministers the French Court ever em...

...September 4. Things were never in so strange ...tion here, as at present. We have no less than ...Wars upon our Hands, and scarce any Blood-shed. ...in Bohemia and Silesia, against the Austrians; ...there seems to be a tacit Cessation of Arms, ex... ...Skirmish now and then between the Light-arm'd ... That in Saxony, against the Court of Dresden, ...ues our Manifesto, but as yet no Hostilities have ...mmitted. The Third is against no body knows ...for the King having Intelligence, that his Domi... ...are like to be invaded, and suspecting that an ...t may be made upon his Capital, has put us all ..., tho' hitherto no Enemy has appeared, nor can ...ably guess from what Corner of the World they ...come. It is certain that no People can either be ...yal to their Prince, or more zealously devoted ...Service of their Country, than we are; but, at ...e time, Reason sets Limits to all Things; and ...y we have been put upon lately, of serving one ...rs successively, out of Four Days and Nights, ...d, that it is impossible for us to go thro' it, and ...on our respective Trades; which having been ...ed to his Majesty, we make no doubt of ob... ...Speedy and suitable Relief. ...Part of a Letter from the Hague, September 11.

...ople differ very much here in their Notions about ...Memorial lately presented by the Abbe de la Ville. ...e regard it as a mere Gallimatias, a Heap of Words ...ut together, as to read very prettily, without ...g any Meaning; which has been a Sort of Practice ...n in use with other Courts, besides that of France, ...in these few Years. It has the Air of offering, ...even of desiring Peace; and yet, at the Bottom, 'there is nothing that can encourage us to hope any 'thing should follow from it; since, hitherto, it has 'not been a Custom for Crowns to appoint a Congress 'before the Preliminaries of a Peace are agreed on; 'and besides, the Passion for Congresses is nothing near 'so strong as in the Days of Cardinal Fleury, when all 'the Princes and States of Europe were so complaisant 'as to send their Ministers to dance Attendance upon 'him at Soissons. These Politicians therefore, make no 'Scruple of declaring, that they consider it in no other 'Light, than that of a Political Amusement, played off 'at this Juncture to conceal some Design of Import'ance; and the rather, because when the Abbe de la 'Ville was told at Table, that it was taken for granted 'from his Memorial, that the Campaign in Flanders was 'over for this Year, and that the French Army in that 'Country would speedily go into Winter Quarters, he 'answered, very coldly, That he did not remember any 'Paragraph to that Purpose in his Memorial: To 'which a Dutch Statesman replied, That if the whole 'was not to that Purpose, he conceived it to be to no 'Purpose at all. It must not, however, be dissembled, 'that another Race of Politicians consider this Paper in 'quite a different Light. In short, they fancy that 'France acts in Concert with a Party here; and that 'this Memorial was presented with no other View, 'than to enable them to declaim more fiercely against 'the Measures taken to support the Powers at War; by 'suggesting, that the State has it in her Power, if she 'pleases, to set on Foot a Negotiation for Peace; which 'if ever she should think fit to do, it will not be till 'after the Imperial Election is decided, and the Allies, 'consequently, in a Condition to treat with France on 'more equal Terms.'
